North Dakota Chess News

- As the Spring season rolls around, so does the end of the usual North Dakota chess scene. Only three larger tournaments remain, the 16th Red River Open, the Dragon Variations, and the 1986 N.D. Closed. Please attend these last few tournaments before the summer, and if you have the wherewithall to do so, plan a summer vacation tournament. Who knows? You may be surprised at the turnout!!

- The 1986 version of the N.D. Scholastic Chess Championships is on the near horizon. Please see if you can't fit March 22 & 23 into your calendar and attend the Scholastic. It always thrills the students to see knowledgesble (at least at chess) adults around. Also, Terry Ness and his crew can use the help in running it. It should be a big success this year as Terry has heard from nearly 50 possible entrants and expects near 100 to participate. This could well be the largest N.D. chess tournament in quite some time!!

- Included in this issue are the actual tournament bulletins from the Timman - Kasparov chess match in December, 1985. Chess Life ran two of the games, but they are all worth looking at. For those of you not familiar with the Dutch notation system, the P stands for the Knight, the L for the bishop, the T for the rook, and the D for the Queen. Of course, the K still remains the King. The scores were sent to me from my postal pal in The Netherlands. He frequently gets to attend such events and usually sends me a sample game or two. Enjoy!

- Finally, a word about the NDCA Newsletter itself. Because of the immense time constraints with my family and my work, I must relinquish the duties of Newsletter editor. I feel that we have begun to produce a very professional, informative and entertaining bulletin. The usual complaints heard from editors across the country ("I do it all myself", and "No one wants to send anything in, yet they gripe because something wasn't included.") still hold true. Maybe this too shall pass, but I doubt it. Anyway, I have thoroughly enjoyed the post and wish my successor the best of luck. By the way, if you have any interests in this area, please contact Terry Ness before the N.D. Closed or attend the annual NDCA meeting at the Closed.

The Great and Not-Great of North Dakota — by John J. Leitel

As promised last time, we give a complete list (as best as possible) of all those who have worn the crown in the Flickertail State. There have been sixteen champions altogether. Now you or I have a chance this spring to add our name to the list!

Information given here includes date of tournament, site of tournament, and home town of winner in addition to the winner's name. You will notice a couple gaps in the record. Perhaps someone in Fargo would have some additional information regarding what's lacking. I believe, for example, that Popel probably won the January 1968 tournament but haven't been able to confirm that. Contact the author at Almont, ND 58520 if you have any more information.

MATES AND MISSES

by Clifford Berger

Prairie Pawnstorm, January 1986 Sicilian Defense
R. Kriedeman (1335) - C. Berger (1843)
1.e4 c5 2.Nf3 d6 3.d4 cd4 4.Nd4 Nf6 5.Be2 [1] Ne4 6.Bb5+ Bd7 7.c4 [2] Qa5+ 8.Nd2 Nf6 9.0-0 a6 10.Nb3 Qc7 11.Bd7+ Nbd7 12.Qe2 Rc8 13.Bf4 [3] Kd8 [4] 14.Rac1 e5 15.Bg5 ed4 16.Rfe1 g6 [5] 17.Nd4 Qa5 18.Qe6+ Kc7 19.Nb5+ Kb8 20.Bfe [6] 21.Qf7 Ne4 22.Re4 Qb5 [7] 23.g3 Qb2 24.Rce1 Bh6 25.Re6 Rhf8 26.Qe7 Rf2 27.Qd6+ Ka8 28.Qd5 Rh2 [8] 29.Ra6+ Kb8 30.Qd6+ Rc7 31.Re8++ 1 - 0

Notes:
[1] Apparently an oversight, not a gambit.
[2] Black's next three moves were a loss of tempi, and White took the initiative.
[3] White hoped for 13...Qc4 14.Rc1', forcing a decisive exchange or mate.
[4] With this simple move, Black now threatens Qc4 and e5! Yet, the aftermath led me to believe that early castling was better strategy.
[5] Missing White's mate in one. You can imagine my shock and relief when he didn't find it!!
[6] Not 20...Re8 as 21.Re8+ leads to mate.
[7] The point to Black's 21st move.
[8] With Black selfishly seeking a mate of his own, White now strikes the final blow - a forced mate in three moves!!
